TAXPAYERS RECEIVE FREE TAX HELP AT ASSISTANCE EVENTS Taxpayers Earning Less Than $50k Annually May Be Eligible For a $5,751 Tax Refund

Los Angeles – The federal government is offering $5,751 in Earned Income Tax Credits (EITC) to individuals earning less than $50,000 annually. To help you learn if you qualify, Board of Equalization Chairman Jerome E. Horton is offering Free Income Tax Preparation and Family Services events throughout the Los Angeles area to help qualified taxpayers recapture as much as $12,000 in federal and state tax credits. Services are being offered in different languages.

In addition, taxpayers attending the event at Los Angeles City College on Saturday March 17 can benefit from services such as low cost or free medical assistance, job preparation, food and nutrition services, and low cost auto insurance.

"For California to rise above economic uncertainty and succeed, so must her citizens," said Chairman Horton. "I am committed to giving Californians the tools they need to help them achieve economic success."

In 2009, $1.2 billion in Earned Income Tax Credit went uncollected. Horton said, "As we grapple with balancing the budget, these badly needed funds could be used to stimulate the economy and keep individuals out of poverty. These funds could be the difference in helping individuals being able to purchase medicines or even save their home from foreclosure."
